What Is WEAAD (World Elder Abuse Awareness Day)?

Elder abuse is a problem that exists in both developing and developed countries yet is typically underreported globally. Prevalence rates or estimates exist only in selected developed countries — ranging from 1% to 10%. Although the extent of elder mistreatment is unknown, its social and moral significance is obvious. As such, it demands a global multifaceted response, one which focuses on protecting the rights of older persons. In response, this day has been sanctioned by The United Nations General Assembly (December 2011)

The Promise I make to older people, now and future generations

I Promise to prevent and stop elder abuse wherever I can;

I Promise to never knowingly break the trust of an older person;

I Promise to learn as much as possible about elder abuse;

I Promise to educate work colleagues, friends and family about elder abuse.
